

Mixture Of Love (music and lyrics Kurt E Hoffman Copyright 2008)

Yellow and Blue, make Green
Yellow and Blue, make Green

And with the rays of the sun in your pale blues it's the prettiest I've ever seen.

And though you sometimes cry, and I'll never know just why,
And there's a mixture of Love, to make the color I'm thinking of.

Green and Yellow, make a Lime

A fragile blade of grass in the full sunshine having always stood the test of time,

And though we've seen it all, and we know it in our eyes,
And there's a mixture of Love to make the color I'm thinking of.

If Red and Green made a Blue,
And I made this one up for you,

With an apple of my eye in a sea of blue, it surely shows our love is always true,

And as time goes by, I believe in you and I,
And there's a mixture of love to make the meaning I'm thinking of

Yes there's a mixture of Love, and the things we're going through,
And there's a mixture of Love, to make the color I'm thinking of.
