

The Milkman and the Cook (words and music, Jeff Greeneberg)(Copyright 2006)

The Milkman, and the Cook, Sure can, deliver the goods

Catch them in the kitchen, with their wandering hands

The Milkman, is making his rounds

He whistles a tune to disguise any other sounds

Well you can catch her in the kitchen with a silly milk mustache

The Milkman and the cook.

It's better to butter up and batten down, always a gentleman first

Free samples of the rocky road ice cream, and nobody's gonna get hurt

The Milkman, he's a jovial he jokes around, nobody will ever suspect

The cook's now in the kitchen preparing her best concoction yet

The Milkman, and the cook,

It was love at first bite, and it was love at first look

Well you can catch them in the kitchen with their wandering hands

The Milkman, and the cook.

It's better to batter up and batten down, always a gentleman first

Free samples of the rocky road ice cream, and nobody's gonna get hurt

The Milkman, he's a jovial he jokes around, no one will ever suspect

The cook's now in the kitchen preparing her best concoction yet

The Milkman, and the cook, it was love at first bite, and it was love at first look

The Milkman, The Milkman.....and the cook.
