

Yota De Frouge

Copyright 2012 Words & Music by Kurt E Hoffman

He may be green and slim. He's not our kind. He's just a real nice fellow, not mean at all.

Yota De Frouge, good friend of mine. Never seen a guy with, so many friends.

He gives a bit of advice, at the dinner table; your manners are so suspect, like, use the fork.

Use the fork dude, use the fork, use the fork dude, use the fork.

He speaks a little different than you and I, but that's all fine, good news all the time.

Possess a bit of magic, all human tricks, know all the sky and stars, and drive real nice cars.

And all these years I've been hanging with his kind,

They all have big ears because they're listening all the time. Yota

Yota De Frouge, good friend of mine. All celebrity status, total El Gratis.

Yota De Frouge loves to compete. You'd never know that he's a natural athlete.

Holds a certain record in his high school class...and in his yearbook was described as an ass.

And all these years, I've been hanging with his kind,

They all have big eyes because they're watching us all the time. Yota

Yota De Frouge Good friend of mine.

There's more to tell you if you have the time. Can't say I like his choice in girls. He likes the healthy ones, with a tail in their curls

You know, this awesome dude is stronger than you think. I saw him hail a taxi with one wink.

One unique dancer, methods refined, I'm watching him now, it's a new grind.