

Indie Adventure (Words and Music, Kurt E Hoffman ©2014)

Heading down I-74, going eastward bound bound
On a Saturday afternoon to see Kurt's favorite band
Finest Grain, Finest Grain in Indianapolis
An Indie adventure

Check into Extended Stay
Known for their free coffee and day old dry muffins
Then we hail a cab; please take us to our venue,
17 bucks for 2 mile, but the place was closed,
Too early we are, ah, ah

So we walk on down, to a sushi bar
Wasting time, watching sous-chef
Make his little fishy things, fishy things
Drink your Sapporo, oh, oh, Sapporo

And we go back and see
Place now open, yeah
Finest Grain was superb
And they gave us a free CD
Plus we got 2 wonderful refrigerator magnets, magnets, yes, yes, yes

Safely back at hotel
Taxi fare only 18 dollars
Probably due to going an extra 20 feet or so in the parking lot, I believe, I believe.

The next morning, January five,
Remember the vortex polar?
Barely make it home alive, I-74 west, west, west,
Only took 6 hours!

But we survived, our spontaneous journey,
Our Indie Adventure, Now we're home, home, home is where the heart ... lies
