

Well the Spy (Words & Music Kurt E Hoffman ©1986)

Oh, oh, oh, ah, ah, ah

Well the spy, slipped through that door last night

Well the spy got through that little tiny hole between the rooms

Well the spy has full roam of the neighborhood

Well the spy must think that there is nothing better to do

I said, "What are you doing here, lying in my bed"?

Get on out of here; cuz you're sleeping on my head!

Oh, oh, oh, oh, no, no, no

I'm allergic to you and your dander I said

Well the spy, - I - I - I - eye

Well the spy must think that there are bugs in my hair

Well the spy must think that there's a mouse or two in my toes

Well the spy is greeting me when the door is closed

Well the spy is kneading me on my shoulders too, Oo, that feels good!

I said, "What are you doing here, didn't Mommà feed you"?

Get on out of here; you got plenty in your bowl!

Why you still kneading me?

Look spy! There's a fly in the window, go catch you rays in the sun.

The spy
